

The Skull

Attached to a cravat pin, the electro-mobile skull ostensibly gnashed its teeth and rolled its eyes. It was made by Gustave Trouv  (a French engineer) and Auguste-Germain Cadet-Picard (a French jeweller) and exhibited in Paris in April 1867.

